CFCD launch range of training courses

Wednesday, September 17th, 2008

Comharcumann Forbartha Chorca Dhuibne(CFCD), the Ballyferriter-based development co-op have this week announced a series of 12 training courses covering a range of topics as diverse as occupational first aid, food safety and marketing impact.

The new courses are aimed at developing new practice and supplementing existing skills within the workforce across a broad range of Gaeltacht – based companies.

Gaeltachtaí na Mumhan Skillnet program manager Dónal Mac an tSíthigh said that there is something in this year's autumn courses for every worker in all indigenous industry within the Gaeltacht area and the range of courses available is reflective of local demands and industry needs.

To coincide with the courses, the Gaeltachtaí na Mumhan Skillnet has announced a special business networking event at the end of the month for small to medium size businesses in the Munster Gaeltacht.

Peter Quinn, former president of the GAA and today of Peter Quinn Consultancy Services is to be the guest speaker at the event which takes place on Monday, September 29th in the Skellig Hotel, Dingle.

Places are limited and all those wishing to participate at this one off event are asked to reserve a position in advance.
